(Part II Banking and War Profiteering)

As we've lead up to our critically important Presidential election and beyond we have the opportunity to free ourselves from a historical tyranny that enslaves us all, a monetary system that is controlled by an elite few and brings wealth to those who profit from war. These groups of shadowy people, known by many names by the learned and wise, have the intention of shackling all common people (the 'unchosen ones') and/or those who consciously or unconsciously remain uninformed, to life of indentured debt and servitude. Our children, our soldiers, are merely cannon fodder in a chest board game towards a new world order.

"The further a society drifts from truth, the more it will hate those who speak the truth." George Orwell, author of '1984'.

You are now at a crossroads of an importance choice. Will you choose, as per the metaphor within the film 'The Matrix,' the blue pill where the illusionary story ends and you choose to stay asleep and dream whatever you want to believe OR will you take the red pill and see how far the rabbit hole goes towards understanding the true nature of the reality in which we live?

I hope you have chosen to go further down the rabbit hole towards an awakened understanding of the true reality in which we live. I introduce to you an excerpt from the words of Michael Rivero and the video by Zane Henry Productions. I encourage you to review the entire video at:

This most informative video details the history of our monetary system leading up to and after Benjamin Franklin's famed quote: "The refusal of King George III to allow colonies to operate an honest money system which freed the ordinary man from the clutches of the money manipulators was probably the prime cause of the revolution.” Benjamin Franklin

And ...Nathan Mayer Rothschild threat to the US government who refused to renew the Central Banking charter issued these threats “Either the application for renewal of the charter is granted or the United States will find itself involved in the most disastrous war.” ...”Teach those impudent Americans a lesson! Bring them back to colonial status.!”

Now, I would like to acknowledge and thank the efforts of:

<https://prof77.wordpress.com/the-20/the-international-bankers-famous-quotes-about-international-bankers/> for their insightful research of the following historically chronicalized quotes from some of our world’s top political leaders and scholars about banking and monetary systems:

“When a government is dependent upon bankers for money, they and not the leaders of the government control the situation, since the hand that gives is above the hand that takes... Money has no motherland; financiers are without patriotism and without decency; their sole object is gain.” – Napoleon Bonaparte, 1769-1821

“When plunder becomes a way of life for a group of men living together in society, they create for themselves in the course of time, a legal system that authorizes it and a moral code that glorifies it.” – Economic Sophisms*, Frederic Bastiat 1801-1850

“If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their currency, first by inflation, then by deflation, the banks...will deprive the people of all property until their children wake-up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered.... The issuing power should be taken from the banks and restored to the people, to whom it properly belongs.” Thomas Jefferson, America’s 3rd President, in the debate over the Re-charter of the Bank Bill (1809)

“History records that the money changers have used every form of abuse, intrigue, deceit, and violent means possible to maintain their control over governments by controlling money and its issuance.” – James Madison, America’s 4th President, 1751-1836

[Speaking about international bankers] “You are a den of vipers! I intend to rout you out, and by the Eternal God I will rout you out. If the people only understood the rank injustice of our money and banking system, there would be a revolution before morning.” . . . “If congress has the right under the Constitution to issue paper money, it was given them to use themselves, not to be delegated to individuals or corporations.” – President Andrew Jackson, America’s 11th President, 1829-1837

“The Government should create, issue, and circulate all the currency and credits needed to satisfy the spending power of the Government and the buying power of consumers. By the adoption of these principles, the taxpayers will be saved immense sums of interest. Money will cease to be master and become the servant of humanity.” . . . “The money power preys upon the nation in times of peace and conspires against it in times of adversity. It is more despotic than monarchy, more insolent than autocracy, and more selfish than bureaucracy. . . . “I have two great enemies, the Southern Army in front of me and the bankers in the rear. Of the two, the one at my rear is my greatest foe.” – Abraham Lincoln, America’s 19th President, 1809-1865

“Of all the contrivances for cheating the laboring classes of mankind, none has been more effective than that which deludes them with paper money.” . . . “We are in danger of being overwhelmed with irredeemable paper, mere paper, representing not gold nor silver; no sir, representing nothing but broken promises, bad faith, bankrupt corporations, cheated creditors and a ruined people.” – Daniel Webster, circa 1845, leading American statesman

“The division of the United States into federations of equal force was decided long before the Civil War by the high financial powers of Europe. These bankers were afraid that the United States, if they remained in one block and as one nation, would attain economic and financial independence, which would upset their financial domination over the world. The voice of the Rothschilds prevailed. . . . Therefore they sent their emissaries into the field to exploit the question of slavery and to open an abyss between the two sections of the Union.” – Otto von Bismarck, German chancellor, 1865

“Whoever controls the volume of money in any country is absolute master of all industry and commerce. And when you realize that the entire system is very easily controlled, one way or another by a few powerful men at the top, you will not have to be told how periods of inflation and depression originate.” – President James Garfield, 1881. He was assassinated just weeks after making this statement.

“On September 1st, 1894, we will not renew our loans under any consideration. On September 1st, we will demand our money. We will foreclose and become mortgagees in possession. We can take two-thirds of the farms west of the Mississippi as well, at our own price... Then the farmers will become tenants, as in England.” – 1891 American Bankers Association Memo, recorded as testimony in the Congressional Record, April 29th, 1913

“The little coterie of powerful international bankers virtually run the United States government for their own selfish purposes. They practically control both parties, write political platforms, make cat’s-paws of party leaders, use the leading men of private organizations, and resort to every device to place in nomination for high public office only such candidates as will be amenable to the dictates of corrupt big business. These international bankers and Rockefeller-Standard Oil interests control the majority of newspapers and magazines in this country.” – John Hylan, Mayor of New York City, quoted in the New York Times, 1922

“Today the path to total dictatorship in the U.S. can be laid by strictly legal means... We have a well-organized political-action group in this country, determined to destroy our Constitution and establish a one-party state... It operates secretly, silently, continuously to transform our Government... This ruthless power-seeking elite is a disease of our century... This group... is answerable neither to the President, the Congress, nor the courts. It is practically irremovable.” – Senator William Jenner, 1954 speech

“[The] abandonment of the gold standard made it possible for the welfare statists to use the banking system as a means to an unlimited expansion of credit.... In the absence of the gold standard, there is no way to protect savings from confiscation through inflation. There is no safe store of value. If there were, the government would have to make its holdings illegal, as was done in the case of gold.... The financial policy of the welfare state requires that there be no way for the owners of wealth to protect themselves.... [This] is the shabby secret of the welfare statist's tirades against gold. Deficit spending is simply a scheme for the 'hidden' confiscation of wealth. Gold stands in the way of this insidious process. It stands as a protector of property rights." – Alan Greenspan, in an article he wrote in 1966, before he became head of the Fed

"There exists a shadowy government with its own Air Force, its own Navy, its own fundraising mechanism, and the ability to pursue its own ideas of national interest, free from all checks and balances, and free from the law itself." – Daniel K. Inouye, US Senator from Hawaii, testimony at the Iran Contra Hearings, 1986

"Who controls the money, controls the world." – Henry Kissinger, circa 1995, Council on Foreign Relations

The banking cartels and those to whom they report form, as President John F. Kennedy referred to, are the secret societies that operate a worldwide "monolithic and ruthless conspiracy." They use propaganda and the media to identify, manipulate and prey upon the patriotic and good of heart. They placate the public's appetite for entertainment (celebrities, sports, film and depraved content of cruelty) as a means to distract and subdue all levels of rational thought.

Such folly, unknown to most, intentionally misdirects the spotlight of awareness from dastardly deeds. This distraction, by design, neuters consciousness into an apathetic state and away from righteous awakening and retaliatory actions. The agenda of these few ultimately serve to control the collective thought, money and resources of society. The narrative of their duplicitous rhetoric is cleverly cloaked to propagandize a façade of good whilst hiding the true intent of controlling and thinning the herd of society through wars and the profits that they reap from this.

Henceforth, please consider Part III in my series of articles: "Tactical Diversions and False Flag Deceptions"...the psychological rudder used to herd society and decisions in specific directions.
